Racing Background

Stuart Williams has racing well and truly in his blood, as he was born in Newmarket and still trains there today. Before taking out his training licence gained a global knowledge of training racehorse, including a stint working for Australian champion trainer Bart Cummings.

He has been training for 10 years with the help of his partner Josephine and has just moved into Diomed stables in the heart of Newmarket which offers a complex with a 70 stable capacity.

He admits that most of his time is taken up with training but when he can he likes nothing better than to have a round of golf on the Newmarket heath!
